

I find the airing of the MTV half-time show at yesterday's Super Bowl featuring a bare breasted Janet Jackson to be extremely offensive. The FCC should levy the highest fines, including several hundred hours of community service, on CBS, MTV, Ms. Jackson, Mr. Timberlake and all others involved. And, the FCC owes it to the American public to ensure that such an incident is never repeated on National television.